NOVA SCOTIA GENEALOGICAL SOURCES

COUNTY GUIDE SERIES

NO. 2 — KINGS COUNTY

compiled by

Wendy L. Thorpe

GENERAL INTRODUCTION

This booklet is part of the Nova Scotia Genealogical Sources County Guide Series. There are a total of nineteen guides in this series; one for each of the eighteen counties, and one for the City of Halifax. The contents of each guide will assist genealogical researchers by providing quick access via a standard list to specific sources available at the Public Archives of Nova Scotia (PANS).

Within each guide, the list is divided into Published Sources (published genealogies; published community/county histories; directories; and newspapers) and Manuscript Sources (papers of families and individuals; church registers; community records and unpublished histories; cemetery inscriptions; census records; education papers; land records; vital statistics; deeds; wills; and some map sources). Please note that some published sources are listed within the Manuscript Sources. All sources are followed by a PANS retrieval number. Visiting researchers should also consult the card indexes on the Second and Third Floors for new entries; and should note that the Biography and Genealogy indexes on the Third Floor will yield sources not covered by this guide series.

Two books recommended for genealogical research are: Julie Morris, Tracing Your Ancestors in Nova Scotia (3rd ed.; Halifax: PANS, 1987), a general guide to sources; and Terrence M. Punch, Genealogical Research in Nova Scotia (3rd ed.; Halifax: Petheric, 1983), a handbook outlining research methods and Nova Scotian sources. In addition, the Genealogical Association of Nova Scotia has published various research sources, such as the series of Nova Scotia Vital Statistics from Newspapers; see the inside back cover of this guide for details.

The PANS does not loan archival or library materials. The National Archives of Canada and the Genealogical Society of Utah (Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, LDS), however, have microfilmed various Nova Scotian records, which are available through inter-institutional loan. For further details, contact the National Archives of Canada, 395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0N3, and/or the nearest LDS Branch Library.

NOVA SCOTIA GENEALOGICAL SOURCES

NO. 2 - KINGS COUNTY

compiled by Wendy L. Thorpe

INTRODUCTION

This booklet contains a map and list of genealogical sources for Kings County available at the Public Archives of Nova Scotia (PANS). With its name as an expression of loyalty, the County of Kings was established by the Governor and Council of Nova Scotia on 17 August 1759. On 17 June 1781, its boundaries were reduced in size with the creation of Hants County, and in 1840, the Township of Parrsborough was cut off, with one part annexed to Cumberland County and the other to Colchester County. For a general background on the early history of the county, researchers should consult A.W.H. Eaton's The History of Kings County, 1910 (F106/K6/EA8).

NEWSPAPERS:

Nova Scotia has a long history of newspaper publishing, dating from The Halifax Gazette of 1752. The PANS newspaper holdings are found in the Library on the Second Floor. To help locate the appropriate newspaper, please consult the Kardex and/or Union List of Newspapers. Several compilations of extracted vital statistics are available. To date, these are:

1. "Vital Statistics from The Christian Messenger 1837-1846" (Baptist newspaper), compiled by Jean Holder and Grace Hubley, and "1847-1858", compiled by Ruth and Ross Burgess (Micro: Places: Nova Scotia: Vital Statistics: Reels 1 and 2).
2. "Vital Statistics from The Presbyterian Witness", 1848-1857 and 1858-1864, compiled by L. Shirley McCormick (Micro: Places: Nova Scotia: Vital Statistics: Reels 3 and 4).

3. Genealogical Association of Nova Scotia, Nova Scotia Vital Statistics from Newspapers (CD3649/935). See inside back cover for details.

MANUSCRIPT SOURCES

PAPERS OF FAMILIES AND INDIVIDUALS:

Researchers should consult the Inventory of Manuscripts (Halifax: PANS, 1976), as well as the Genealogy and Biography card indexes on the Third Floor, to determine if there are entries for the specific families they are researching.

In addition, the following papers concern Kings Co. families:

Best Family (Horton and Halifax)	Genealogical notes and miscellaneous documents (MG 1, Vol. 128).

Diary, with some vital statistics,
1844-1862 (Micro: MG 1, Vol. 2460).

CHURCH REGISTERS:

All church registers are on microfilm (PANS Micro: Churches: community name) unless otherwise specified. If your family resided in an area before a church was constructed, check the records for neighbouring communities. Their church registers should be checked, especially for records in the eighteenth and first half of the nineteenth centuries.

A card index arranged alphabetically by community is available in the grey Rolodex files on the Third Floor, and will provide the most up-to-date information on church records held at PANS. Access restrictions pertain to some church records. Abbreviations used: BP - Baptisms; BU - Burials; D - Deaths; and M - Marriages; Ang. - Anglican; Bapt. - Baptist; Cong. - Congregational; Meth. - Methodist; Presb. - Presbyterian; R.C. - Roman Catholic; Un. - United.

CEMETERIES:

The cemeteries collection includes transcripts of inscriptions from tombstones or grave markers, and cemetery company records. A card index arranged alphabetically by community is available in the beige Rolodex files on the Third Floor, and will provide the most up-to-date information on cemetery records held at PANS.

CENSUS RECORDS:

There are very few early census records for Kings County. With the exception of 1770, all are available only on microfilm. Poll tax lists, which name the head of household, are available for Kings County during the 1790s; they are arranged alphabetically by community name.

The 1838 census for Kings County is in geographical order by name of the community.

The census records for 1851 to 1891 are arranged by assigned districts, which are listed on the outside of the microfilm box. Valuable genealogical information, such as individual's name, sex, age, religion, occupation, ethnic origin, country or province of birth, and marital status, is given in the 1871, 1881 and 1891 census records.

(Available near the Third Floor Desk.)

EDUCATION PAPERS:

The education papers, 1809-1887, include warrants for payments to trustees, general correspondence, statistical returns and reports, petitions, grants, abstracts, some minutes of the school boards, contracts, and attendance records. In the papers for the 1820s and 1830s, names and ages of pupils, names of parents or guardians, and lists of schools may be found.

REFERENCES: RG 14, Vols. 40-42. See: Inventory of Manuscripts, p. 134, and RG 14 Finding Aid for detailed listings.

LAND PAPERS:

The PANS has microfilm copies of land papers and grants. The land papers include petitions for grants, survey warrants, survey descriptions, and grants, 1765-1914; coverage after ca. 1840 is sporadic. A surname card index is available; it is divided into two sections, 1765-1799 and 1800-1914. These papers are of immense value to genealogists, since a petitioner may mention his county and country of birth, military service, and the number of children in the family (Micro: RG 20, Series "A", 94 reels). The PANS also has land grants from the Crown Lands Office, covering the years 1738-1962 (Micro: Places: Nova Scotia: Land Grants, 147 reels; index, A-G, Reel 1; H-Z, Reel 2). Another collection of petitions for land covers the period 1815-1890 (Micro: RG 20, Series "E", 17 reels; introduction and index on Reel 1). Ungranted petitions are also available (RG 20, Series "U", 5 reels; introduction and index on Reel 1). The Crown Lands papers offer supplementary information concerning land settlement (RG 20, Series "C", 186 vols.).

Subsequent land transactions after the initial grant are recorded as deeds. See Registry of Deeds information below.

VITAL STATISTICS:

Births (1864-1876):

This collection is on microfilm, and is indexed and arranged by county. The index is alphabetical by surname. Please copy the county name, year, page, and number of the index entry.

REFERENCES: Micro: RG 32, Reels 320-325 (index); RG 32, Series "WB", Reel 343 (registrations).
(Available near the Third Floor Desk.)

Deaths (1864-1877):

This collection is used in the same way as Births.

REFERENCES: Micro: RG 32, Reels 326-328 (index); RG 32, Series "WB", Reel 351 (registrations).
(Available near the Third Floor Desk.)

Marriages (1864-1909):

This collection is used in the same way as Births. The index is, however, arranged first by county, then alphabetically by the individual's name; both brides and grooms are listed.

REFERENCES: Micro: RG 32, Reel 332 (index); RG 32,
 Series "WB", Reel 364 (registrations).
 (Available near the Third Floor Desk.)

Marriage Bonds (1763-1864):

This collection of bonds (a form of early licence sometimes used instead of calling the banns) is arranged by date and there is no surname index. A two-volume typed transcript is available near the Third Floor Desk.

REFERENCES: Micro: RG 32, Marriage Bonds, 13 reels.

REGISTRY OF DEEDS:

Once land was granted by the Crown, any subsequent transaction was recorded as a deed. The original deeds are at the Kings County Registry of Deeds Office, Box 7, Kentville, Nova Scotia B4N 3V9. Microfilm copies of Kings County deeds at PANS are: Indices, 1764-1968; Deeds, 1766-1843 (Horton, today Wolfville); Deeds, 1820-1843 (Aylesford); Deeds, 1764-1903 (Cornwallis, today Kentville; includes Horton and Aylesford after 1843); all of which are located on the Second Floor. Please consult Finding Aid for individual reels.

PROBATE RECORDS:

Probate records include the will books, estate papers and supporting documents which enable the executors or appointed administrators to settle the estate. Original wills and estate papers are at the Kings County Probate Office, 87 Cornwallis St., Kentville, Nova Scotia B4N 2E5. Microfilm copies of Kings County probate records at the PANS are: Will Books, 1783-1968 (with indices); Wills and Judgements, 1876-1968; Will (i.e. estate) Papers, 1785-1901; Letters of Administration, 1924-1968; Administration Papers, 1785-1902; Guardianship Acts, 1862-1905; Probate Petitions, 1844-1885; Probate Acts, 1917-1968; and Letters Testamentary, 1924-1968; all of which are located on the Second Floor. Please consult Finding Aid for individual reels.

MAP SOURCES (FIFTH FLOOR):

The Ambrose F. Church Co. topographical maps of Nova Scotia counties were produced between 1865 and 1888; the one for Kings County was done in 1872. These maps feature detailed plans of the various census districts and townships, including locations of buildings, names of occupants, transportation routes and various geographical markings.

FIFTH FLOOR:

The Fifth Floor collections may be useful in providing information about how people of various time periods lived, what kind of clothing they wore, what their homes looked like, what stories they told their children, the music they played or listened to, what their daily routine was comprised of, etc. Pictures, photographs, maps, architectural plans, and film and sound recordings can portray these aspects of life and should not be overlooked. We suggest that you telephone the Fifth Floor prior to your visit, because the complex nature of their collections may require the archivists' assistance. Normal working hours there are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with limited service to pictures, photographs, maps and plans on Wednesday evenings.
